

Champ will return as soon as possible

DEAR Champion readers, advertisers and suppliers.

We will be back!

Local news prepared by professional journalists and delivered FREE to your door every week is what the Champion is all about... but without advertising income from local businesses who are now in lockdown, we fear this will not be possible at least for the next few weeks.

Ironically, there has never been a more vital need to deliver local news that covers and tackles the issues affecting your lives and livelihoods than right now. As in the first lockdown we are frustrated that we cannot fund this service for you. However, we will be back as soon as possible. The fighting spirit of the Champion team remains as strong as ever.

In the meantime, we will continue to bring you news on the FREE ChampNews website and Facebook page. Working from home we ask you to stay in touch with us. Let us know how the lockdown is affecting you, your families, friends, your employment and your businesses.

So tell us your stories, good news and how we can help your business make it through this difficult time.

The Champion might not come through your door for a while, but we are still here for you and will do our best to bring you informative and interesting local news and views.

We will also continue to share your business on our Facebook page. Please contact us on 07881 338938 for more information.

In the meantime, stay safe and take great care of each other.

Best wishes - your Champion Team

What you can and can't do under the new rules

● People should stay at home except for education, work (if it can't be done from home), exercise and recreation, medical reasons, shopping for food and other essentials, or to care for others

● All pubs and restaurants will have to close (but food takeaways and deliveries can continue)

● All non-essential shops will have to close (but supermarkets can sell non-essential goods)

● Households will not be allowed to mix with others indoors, or in private gardens

● Schools, colleges and universities will remain open

● Workplaces will be asked to stay open if people cannot work from home - including construction and manufacturing

● Outdoor exercise and recreation will be allowed, but gyms will have to close

● Clinically vulnerable advised not to go to work if they are unable to work from home

● Individuals can meet one person from outside their household in an outside public space

● Support bubbles for people who live alone and households made up of single parents and children can continue

● Children will be able to move between homes if their parents are separated

WE NEED EXIT PLAN FROM LOCKDOWN 2

MP tells Government to get its act together as council vows to support the vulnerable

Report by Danielle Thompson

AS the nation faces another period of lockdown the council has promised to support vulnerable residents and businesses in the West Lancashire through what will be a concerning time for many.

A spokesperson for West Lancashire Borough Council said: "Following the government announcement of further measures to be introduced this week, we would like to reassure our local communities and businesses of the ongoing work with our partners to stop the virus spreading and support the needs of West Lancashire."

"We are continuing to support vulnerable residents who do not have any support in place through West Lancs Together."

"Any council tenant or resident who is struggling financially due to the impact of the pandemic are encouraged to get in touch for support and advice."

"Local businesses can also find details of helpful information and support available on our website."

Rosie Cooper MP

Councillor Ian Moran, Leader of West Lancashire Borough Council, said: "Keeping everyone as safe as possible remains our top priority and we are working with all our partner organisations to beat this virus."

"Every effort is being made to ensure essential council services will continue and our teams can provide support to those who need it most.

"I am grateful to all our staff working to support our vulnerable residents and businesses alongside providing those vital day to day services critical to the borough."

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said: "This lockdown must come with the appropriate resources to support my West Lancashire constituents."

"We need support for businesses to ensure jobs are retained, furlough support as well as financial support for those self-employed."

"Local authorities must be given the resources to ensure they can support and provide for our most vulnerable residents and those who will be shielding."

"I believe the Government should have acted sooner and the time in lockdown needs to be used to fix Test and Trace which constituents tell me simply isn't working."

"The Government needs to be clear with the British people about what the exit plan is."

"Continuous lockdowns will seriously damage our economy, leading to job losses which will mean further problems down the road with poverty and homelessness but all of this depends on a solid working test and trace operation and that is best done locally with directors of public health running it, not private companies making a mess of it and getting paid millions."

"I will support any measure to help bring the virus under control and save lives, but Government must also plan for the long term."

The volunteers receive their awards at Parbold Village Hall

Community groups given Queen's Award for volunteer work

Report by Tom Martin

TWO groups based in the same village in West Lancashire have received their awards from the Queen for volunteer work.

The highly prestigious Queen's Award for Voluntary Service, which is considered the MBE for volunteer groups, has been presented to Parbold Douglas Music Lancashire and Parbold Picture House in recognition of their outstanding work in the local community.

The awards are normally presented at a ceremony, but in light of the new restrictions imposed by government, the awards were given at an empty auditorium of Parbold Village Hall.

Both groups rely on volunteers to run every aspect of organising and presenting concerts and films to audiences from across the North West.

Whilst both are based at Parbold Village Hall, the two groups operate independently of each other, and each has received a separate award. Both have helped develop the hall's activities by helping to secure many substantial grants and have transformed it into one of the finest venues in the region.

Clare Gillard, Recorder for Parbold Picture House and Treasurer of Parbold Douglas Music and Michael Bonsall, Chairman of Parbold Douglas Music and Convener of the Picture House Film Crew said: "We are very proud of our volunteers and the marvellous positive spirit and commitment with which they work, solve problems and coordinate their efforts."

"We think it is highly extraordinary for two awards to be made independently to groups working in the same venue. We have known for some time that our volunteers are exceptional people. Volunteers are always welcome and immediately feel at home in the comradeship that has been built up. The audiences are very appreciative of the positive contribution our volunteers make to their lives."

United set for big FA Cup tie to be screened live on TV

WHILE the lockdown means Skelmersdale United will be taking a break from league action, it won't prevent their FA Cup tie going ahead on Friday with all matches in the competition allowed to proceed, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

United have been rewarded for their stunning FA Cup run with a tie away at League Two side Harrogate Town which will be televised live on BT Sport, with a 7.45pm kick off.

It would have been cruel to manager Paul McNally's team if they had been prevented from playing the game, as the team have battled through six rounds of FA Cup football to reach this stage and it is 50 years since the club reached this stage in the competition.

The club will also receive a decent sum of money for appearing in a televised game.

It is understood the club will receive, around £32,000, which is a huge amount of money to a club at their level and especially helpful in the current pandemic with all North West Counties League fixtures suspended until at least Wednesday, December 2.

It is an historic week for Skelmersdale with the club and with it the town in the national spotlight.

Television crews were due to be filming at the club's training session at the JMO Sports Park last night, where interviewed Paul McNally, forward Richard Brodie and goalkeeper Ben Barnes.

The latter has become something of a local hero during the remarkable cup run as not just the custodian of the team, but a custodian of the town as a police officer locally.

Barnes was voted the club's player of the month and left a message thanking supporters on social media.

He tweeted: "Thanks to every single person who voted for not only me but my team mates this month."

"We've had a lot of media engagement between the club and the fans which is what we all want.

Skelmersdale United goalkeeper Ben Barnes and manager Paul McNally being interviewed on television. Picture by John Driscoll.

"It's an honour to win player of the month and hopefully can keep helping the team."

A local artist has even painted a picture of Lloyd Ellams scoring the winning goal at Stafford Rangers in the last round

It is fair to say that Skelmersdale is enjoying a full traditional dose of FA Cup fever.

Skelmersdale United are the lowest ranked team left in the FA Cup, so it would be another shock if the beat League Two side Harrogate Town but given their performances in the previous rounds, it may not be beyond them.

Civic Remembrance Service is cancelled due to pandemic

THIS year's Civic Remembrance Sunday Service at Ormskirk Parish Church has been cancelled due to the pandemic.

In line with government and local authority advice, the organisers had planned to hold a regular Sunday morning service on Sunday, November 8 which was set to include an Act of Remembrance – but this has now been cancelled too, due to more stringent lockdown measures being introduced by the Government.

People urged to act responsibly this Bonfire Night

LANCASHIRE Fire and Rescue Service (LFRS) are working closely with their partners to help keep people safe this bonfire period.

People have been at home more than usual this year due to the pandemic, and with another lockdown coming into effect in time for Bonfire Night, LFRS and partners at Lancashire Constabulary and North West Ambulance Service are expecting things to be busier than usual.

Unfortunately, all organised displays have had to be cancelled for this year.

If people really cannot wait until 2021 to watch a firework and bonfire display safely, Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service are urging people to please stay safe.

A spokesperson said: "While most people enjoy fireworks responsibly, in the wrong hands they can cause real misery."

"Remember that fireworks are explosives, and as such should be treated with respect and only used in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions and the Firework Code."

"We are asking people not to take risks, putting additional pressures on the emergency services."

Council promise to investigate hedge concerns highlighted by worried mum

Some of the overgrown hedges

LANCASHIRE County Council have responded to a mum's appeal in the Champion for 'dangerously overgrown' bushes to be cut back in Aughton 'before a child is killed on the school run.'

Alison Dreves, a mum of two, had spoken to the Champion about overgrown hedges on Moss Delph Lane and Liverpool Road in Aughton, which she said are a danger for families making their way to and from schools.

Students making their way to and from St Bede's Catholic High School; Aughton St Michael's CofE Primary School and Aughton Christ Church Primary School are often forced to walk on the busy road because the hedges at the side of the narrow pavements are so overgrown.

She has been pleading for more than a year with Lancashire County Council to cut back the bushes as she believes that someone could be injured or killed by having to walk in the busy road.

The county council say they are trying to contact the people responsible for the hedge and will consider carrying out the work themselves if they don't respond.

A spokesman for Lancashire County Council said: "We have previously responded to a number of reports about overgrown hedges in this area, which have usually been resolved once we have written to the owner asking for them to be cut."

"We are due to carry out a further inspection shortly in response to another recent report and will take any action which may be needed."

"If the owner of a hedge doesn't respond to our letter, we can consider carrying out the work ourselves and recharge the cost to the owner if necessary."

Parents reminded to social distance when dropping children off at school

PARENTS from West Lancashire have been asked to make sure they are following social distancing guidelines as children return to school following half term.

This comes amid concerns from headteachers and also some parents, who have noticed some who are congregating and standing less than two metres apart outside school.

People are encouraged to follow government guidelines and stand more than two metres apart, even when talking to others outdoors when picking up and dropping off their children.

County Councillor Phillippa Williamson, cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "The figures show that the spread of Covid-19 is increasing and we all need to do our bit to keep it at bay."

"I know it is hard and it can be easy to forget to stand two metres apart when we're outside school talking to others, but the virus can spread, even outdoors so it's important we remember to follow the guidance."

"Congregating in groups is a particular problem as it means the virus can spread in local communities very quickly."

"We're getting to winter now and with hospitals expected to get busier, it's important we all try to keep our distance in and around schools.

"This will help us to protect our communities and reduce the pressure on our NHS at a time when our hospitals are coming under increasing pressure."

Children are also strongly encouraged to wear face coverings on school transport. People aged 11 and over have to wear face coverings on public transport by law.

Parents are also being reminded not to send their child to school, after school clubs and all after-school activities if they, or a family member they have been in contact with, have tested positive for Covid-19 in the last 14 days.

Cyclist appalled after bike stolen at hospital

Desperate appeal to find 'treasured' bicycle

By Danielle Thompson

A CYCLIST has spoken of her shock and anger after her 'treasured' £1,200 mountain bike was stolen from outside Ormskirk Hospital.

Avid biker Margaret Biggs, has launched an appeal to trace her bright orange Trek mountain bike after it was stolen from outside the hospital while she was attending an appointment on Friday, October 23.

The 70 year old, who is an amputee, had cycled from her home in Churchtown to the hospital.

She was 'appalled, shocked and furious' to discover after her appointment which only took 30 minutes, that thieves had cut through her lock and stolen the bike.

She said: "I was away only half an hour. Please keep a look out for it."

"It's bright orange so easily seen. I was furious as I had to get a taxi home then too!"

The stolen bike

"The bike is only two years old, it's a treasured beauty."

"It's hard tail small size aluminium frame with front shocks, has double front chain ring, hub disk brakes, ladies' gel saddle, short mudguards, safety lights, silver double sided cleat pedals, rear bag rack, front bag holder, mobile phone holder."

If you have any information, call Lancashire Police on 101 quoting log 871 of October 23.

American football club set to expand with funding scheme

Financial future secured after it is selected for grassroots sports project

Report by Tom Martin

AN American football club based in Skelmersdale is on course to secure its financial future after taking part in a new grassroots sports initiative.

Merseyside Nighthawks is one of 75 clubs across the country chosen by the GiveToLocal organisation which aims to support grassroots sports.

After coming through a stringent selection process, the Nighthawks are already close to transforming their long-term financial future.

Via the groundbreaking GiveToLocal app Merseyside Nighthawks has the potential to connect with hundreds of local donors.

Donors are asked to pledge a minimum of £3 per month and in return they can access a growing number of offers from local businesses.

GiveToLocal is working closely with Merseyside Nighthawks to bring on board local businesses as sponsors. A minimum £8 per month donation can connect firms at the heart of the community with new customers and help to support sport in the process.

Nighthawks coach Andrew Taylor said: "We cannot wait to get going on a campaign that could secure our club's financial future."

"We want to be able to expand our organisation to include junior ages, women's and flag football – this opportunity could make that happen."

"We are hopeful that the GiveToLocal strategy will allow us to establish a sustainable income and build our club going forward."

GiveToLocal aim is to pump funding into community sport annually by backing sport, boosting business and building networks.

GiveToLocal chief Neil Gardiner said: "It's fantastic to have Merseyside Nighthawks on board."

"Their application stood out from the crowd."

"The Nighthawks have track record for playing a key role at the heart of their local community and fundraising is something they already do very well."

"We're here to take them to the next level by helping them to secure the sustainable funding that can ensure lasting, positive change."

"As a Focus Club Merseyside Nighthawks has the opportunity to point the way when it comes to realising fundraising potential."

Hiring a waste collector could land you with £400 fine

RESIDENTS in West Lancashire who use Facebook to hire unregistered waste collectors could become 'accidental criminals', warns the Environment Agency.

Waste carriers must dispose of waste in the right place, storing it safely. If they don't, they could be fined £5,000.

It's not just them who will be fined, as the person who hired them could also be forced to pay £400!

Registered waste carriers in the North West have become concerned about the number of 'man and van' adverts on Facebook and other social media platforms offering to take away people's rubbish.

If these traders don't have a waste carriers' licence, there is no guarantee rubbish will go to an authorised legal site.

Instead, it could end up dumped on the side of the road.

If people suspect criminal activity, they should report it on the hotline 0800 807060 or anonymously through Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Litter bin jobs slammed by councillor

Cllr Neil Furey next to one of the bins

YOBS who spray painted graffiti on two new litter bins in Skelmersdale have been condemned by a councillor.

Following requests from local residents, two new bins were recently placed near Yewdale to help with a litter problem.

However, Skelmersdale North Councillor Neil Furey was left angry after youths wasted no time in spraying them with graffiti.

He said: "The council and local people have been making a great effort to keep the area litter free and show some pride in the local environment."

"Sadly some people couldn't care less and treat our local community and facilities with contempt. "This council continues to invest in services and facilities and it saddens me that our efforts are being damaged in this way."

The council has since cleaned the bins and removed the graffiti.

Software firm's global growth gathers pace as it teams up with Aussie client

AN asset management firm based in Skelmersdale says its 'global growth has gathered pace' after it teamed up with an Australian client.

CoreRFID is installing its new 'IDXpert Net solution' for heavy lifting firm SpanSet Australia, a Sydney-based firm who will be able to produce safety certifications for its clients in a matter of minutes when the system goes live at the end of the year.

IDXpert Net, which replaces a manual system, enables inspections to be recorded on site using a tablet.

The data is then automatically uploaded to a secure cloud-based database and is immediately accessible to customers.

The new system is specifically designed for international crane, heavy lifting and asset management firms.

SpanSet Australia's managing director Kristian Pritchett says: "IDXpert Net will make savings in areas such as admin while improving the reporting accuracy and speed of inspection certification for our clients."

"It's a step-up in the customer experience we can offer."

CoreRFID partners with more than 75 firms using its inspection solutions in the UK and SpanSet Australia's managing director Kristian Pritchett.

Ireland.

Technical director Munzi Ali added: "This latest project shows we can offer crane and lifting firms, anywhere in the world, a system that can make inspections work more effectively for themselves and their clients."

The children’s team at Crow Orchard Primary School were the proud winners of the virtual basketball challenge

School team are the ‘virtual’ champions of basketball challenge

CHILDREN at Crow Orchard Primary School in Skelmersdale are the proud winners of a ‘virtual basketball’ challenge.

The contest was organised by SHARES Lancashire, a not-for-profit company set up to support schools in West Lancashire.

Lesley Jones, a teacher at the school, said: “We try to ensure children get as much exercise and even outdoor lessons whenever possible. Obviously, the children were disappointed that the tournaments they usually take part in had to be cancelled due to Covid but SHARES Lancashire cleverly devised virtual tournaments whereby the children carried out challenges at their own schools and the recorded scores were collated by the SHARES coaches.”

Borough council to consider challenge to landfill decision

Report by Tom Martin

WEST Lancashire Council is considering how to challenge a decision to allow remedial work at Parbold Hill Quarry landfill site to go ahead.

The Champion reported last week how a proposal to raise the height of the former landfill site in a bid to prevent water leaking was given a go-ahead by Lancashire County Council.

This was despite thousands of objections from residents who fear it will ruin the views from a popular beauty spot.

Portfolio Holders Cllr Dave Evans (Planning) and Cllr Gareth Dowling (Communities and Community Safety) from West Lancashire Council say they are “considering options” to support a challenge to the decision.

Prior to the application being heard, West Lancashire Borough Council twice submitted formal comments of objection to the application.

Now, the council’s cabinet have agreed to consider what options are available to work alongside campaign groups and residents to examine the approval, and whether there were any flaws in the process or withholding or misinterpretation of information presented.

Cllr Evans and Cllr Dowling said in a statement: “At every stage of the process we have worked with officers and councillors at West Lancashire Borough

Cllr Dave Evans and Cllr Gareth Dowling at the site.

Council in putting forward our strong objections to the planning application for Parbold Hill Landfill.

“We share the frustration and anger of residents at the disregard shown to this beauty spot and the hundreds and hundreds of resident objections.

“West Lancashire cannot be and must not be seen as the dumping ground of the North West. We have already had Whitemoss expanded and extended despite strong local objection, and here we see it again.

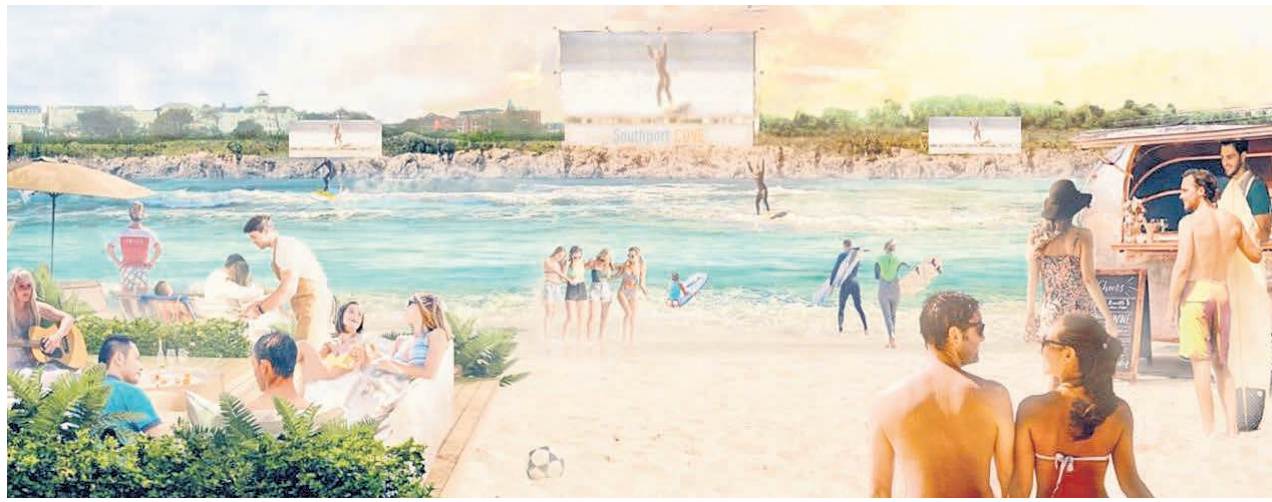

“Working with local campaigners, we will now consider how we can support any legal challenge and what grounds there may be.

“We fought hard against White Moss and we must do the same for Parbold Hill and protect West Lancashire from this destruction.”

What Southport Cove could look like.

Surfin' Southport?

Report by Danielle Thompson

SEFTON Council has revealed details of a 'world class water attraction' it hopes will be built at Princes Park, Southport.

The council has entered into an exclusivity agreement with Go Surf to create Southport Cove Resort - an all year-round attraction with an exciting surf wave pool at its heart.

The scheme is at an early stage and no timeframe has been put on when such a scheme could arrive but if it does come to fruition it will be situated on the seafront on the land between Ocean Plaza and Pleasureland.

The project - a private sector development on a Sefton Council-owned site - will also include water-based wellness and spa facilities, 4-star accommodation, casual dining and indoor leisure facilities.

A stunning 250m long beach coupled with a 360-degree boardwalk and planted gardens are among the other ideas being mooted. In a press release issued by the council, the scheme is described as 'using the next generation of surf pool technology' which will make waves that can reach over two meters for accomplished surfers, to just 0.5 meters for those who prefer 'fun' waves.

Creating up to 120 new jobs and bringing more than £20 million per annum to the local economy with an expected 150,000 client visits a year, Southport Cove, say the council, will complement the other exciting opportunities emerging in the town, as part of the Southport Town Deal and beyond.

The founders of Go Surf said: "Southport's location and existing facilities lend themselves perfectly to the town becoming a true haven for water sports.

"We're taking a world class surf pool and building a resort around it that's far more than just a place for catching waves, something that all visitors and members can enjoy on any given day of the year.

"Our aim is to create a perfect environment where people meet with friends and family, be it to lounge on the beach or in the gardens, catch some waves, relax in the spa, or just grab a coffee and a bite to eat.

"It's a real privilege to have this opportunity to do something great for our hometown."

The Champion pressed the council for more information on 'Go Surf' but a spokesperson said 'this was confidential at this time due to commercial sensitivities'.

Southport ward councillor John Pugh contacted the Champion to say: "It's great that people want to invest in the town and this seems a very exciting prospect but my information is that the project is at a very early stage. There are obvious challenges for a fledgling company retro-fitting an Edwardian boating lake with 21st century wave technology.

"The council has got to be careful not to over-promise and under-deliver. If every scheme previously floated in the press had come to fruition, our coastline would even now be looking like Las Vegas in boom time."

Hospital's charity coronavirus appeal raises £116,000

A CHARITY appeal to support staff, patients and volunteers through the coronavirus pandemic has raised more than £116,000.

Southport and Ormskirk Hospitals Charity launched the appeal in April with a video from staff explaining what life was like at the height of the first wave of infection. Six months on, kind-hearted fundraisers have given £116,493 to the appeal.

Dozens of individual donations included fundraising efforts like that of Seren Farrington, from Southport, who raised £1,525 selling pictures she had made to countries all over the world.

The total was boosted further by grants from NHS Charities Together, the national organisation for NHS charities, which has raised more than £130m so far this year.

All funds raised for the appeal will go towards the purchase of key equipment and services.

Funds committed so far include a 'wellbeing garden' at Southport hospital and iPads, portable DVDs and Nintendo Switches for the children's department at Ormskirk hospital.

It will also help purchase extra-long outdoor benches for socially-distancing sitting out.

Neil Masom, chair of the Southport and Ormskirk Hospitals Charity trustees said he was "hugely grateful" to those who donated.

Glass firm creates new product to help reduce spread of infections

Report by Tom Martin

A GLASS manufacturer with a headquarters in Ormskirk has developed a new glass product that can help reduce the spread of viruses and infections.

Pilkington, which has the European Testing Centre on Hall Lane, has created Pilkington SaniTise - an anti-microbial glass to reduce transmission of infections via surfaces in shared spaces and public transport.

It was designed by the Ormskirk research and development team in wake of the pandemic and the work is supported by testing at leading UK Universities.

Viruses can live on glass surfaces for days if left untreated, which becomes of particular concern during the coronavirus outbreak.

Pilkington UK says the glass is suited for building façades of offices, schools, hospitals, restaurants and hotels as the interior surface on any exterior wall system.

It's also designed for use in all types of public

Pilkington is behind the new glass product transport such as buses, trains and passenger boats.

Pilkington SaniTise is a transparent coated glass that's activated through UV exposure.

When the glass is exposed to UV light, its antimicrobial activity is significantly increased compared to using uncoated glass. It has a pyrolytic coating, which provides antimicrobial properties and acts against enveloped viruses on the glass surface.

Neil McSparran, Global Portfolio Manager - Incubator Program said: "Obtaining third party verification of the coating's effectiveness is a huge milestone, which represents a major push by our Ormskirk and St Helens teams in responding to the very new challenges that the built environment and transport faces in the wake of the pandemic."

"Some viruses can live on glass surfaces for days if left untreated, creating a risk for people to become infected through contact transmission. Pilkington SaniTise ultimately helps to reduce the chances of this happening, which could make a big difference in high-touch applications such as shopping centre doorways or passenger windows on a bus."

Plastic Challenge urges locals to go litter-picking

THE Canal & River Trust is calling on West Lancashire residents to help stop plastic reaching the ocean by pledging to join its national Plastic Challenge.

In the last six months, the charity has seen a 68% increase in reports from the public about unsightly litter on the towpath and in its canals and rivers.

Becki Anderson, North West environment and heritage manager at the Canal & River Trust, said: "Every year 14 million pieces of plastic end up in and around our canals and rivers."

"By making a pledge to support our Plastics Challenge and taking part in a litter pick with your family or on your own as part of your daily exercise, you are making a commitment to helping the local wildlife too."

Members of Friends of Parbold Station, Friends of Parbold Library and the Community Rail Lancashire show off the new poster

Platform poster tells history of railway station

Report by Tom Martin

TRAIN commuters can now get a short history lesson about Parbold railway station after a poster was placed on the platform.

Community Rail Lancashire (CRL) are undertaking a project to provide history posters for stations all over Lancashire and they asked Friends of Parbold Station to help out.

The poster gives a brief history of the local station and includes a number of photographs over the ages.

Mark Dowding, working with the Friends of Parbold Station as well as Friends of Parbold Library, has produced the poster.

He said: "I was approached by David Pryer of the Friends of Parbold Station to see if I would be interested in contributing to a poster that was to be produced by Community Rail Lancashire and displayed on the station platform.

"The railway has been my working life, constructing and designing electrification schemes for national and international railways, and so I jumped at the chance and after finding a number of photographs from different eras and putting a draft of the text together for the Friends of Parbold Station to peruse, pull apart, amend and approve - which they did!"

"We managed to agree on which photographs should be included with the addition of a couple from John Sloane's collection, and a brief history of the station over the years from different sources which was proof read and corrected by Tony Graham - a friend of ours who is a railway historian - and sent to CRL for final approval and production."

"I've enjoyed working on the project and I think it's a fine addition on the station to show part of the history of the Wigan - Southport line."

Remove leaves from drains to stop blocks, urges county council

Report by Danielle Thompson

RESIDENTS in West Lancashire have been urged to clear leaves away from drains to help prevent blockages during heavy downpours.

It is estimated that up to 80% of reports received about problems with drains during the autumn are due to leaves sitting over the top of grates, rather than a more serious maintenance issue.

Highways staff are grateful that many people already help by clearing debris away and allowing water to enter the drains, and is encouraging others to do the same if it is safe to do so.

The county council maintains over 300,000 roadside drains with those most at risk of becoming blocked being checked most often.

County Councillor Keith Iddon, cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "We will respond whenever we receive a report of flooding, and try to help however we can, whatever the source of the problem."

"Problems with highway drainage systems are very rarely the cause of flooding to properties, but often cause roads and pavements to become flooded if they have become blocked."

"At this time of year we have a lot of leaves on the ground, and with the heavy rain forecast for later this week, there is a likelihood that drains could become plugged by leaves."

"During the autumn we very often find the cause of blocked drains is simply leaves lying on top of the grate which act like a plug and stop the water flowing down. The grates are designed to trap leaves and other debris to prevent them causing blockages further down the piped systems, which would be more difficult to deal with.

Leaves in drains can cause flooding

"If people are concerned that a highway drain is not flowing this may well be the cause, and if it's safe to do so I'd ask people to consider brushing the leaves one side to see if that works, and if possible to clear the leaves away."

"However, please only do this if it's safe as we would never want anyone to put themselves at risk."

"We do of course respond to all reports that we receive, but particularly during heavy rain when we have to prioritise the most serious flooding issues, it's worth people knowing that most blocked drains can be easily cleared."

If you can't clear a blocked drain yourself, or the problem doesn't appear to be caused by leaves, it can be reported at www.lancashire.gov.uk or by calling 0300 123 6701 and highways staff will attend as soon as they can.

Report stated that no proof landfill leak goes into river

So Lancashire County Council has granted planning permission to the proposed works on Parbold Hill, a meeting I watched online.

The committee ignored the views of the thousand residents who objected, together with the six parish councils, and West Lancashire Borough Council.

Talk about shouting at the computer screen! One councillor turned the meeting into a discussion about toxic leachate "leaking" into the River Douglas, polluting fish and wildlife for generations to come.

"Somebody please correct her!" I yelled into the ether ...but correction there was none.

The planning officer's report to committee stated ... "The applicant has presented water quality data between 2002 and 2018 in the River Douglas and in the Leeds and Liverpool Canal.

"However this data does not suggest that there is any clearly identifiable pollution issue from landfill leachate."

Had she not read the report or did she simply not understand it?

Not only was there no correction but the committee chairman actually agreed with her stating "I have to decide - do I want a beautiful view or contaminated land?"

And most of the councillors came to believe that it is worth sacrificing 80% of Parbold Hill's panoramic view to protect the River Douglas from pollution pollution which doesn't exist!

The committee was concerned about the proposed site access near the brow of the hill as 14,000 vehicles use Parbold Hill every day.

The committee spotted that HGVs negotiating traffic to and from the motorway, and cars parking in the layby and turning into the Miller Carter car park - could be dangerous!

They asked Highways to consider other safety measures perhaps even traffic lights - but they granted planning permission anyway!

A better solution for this unnecessary desecration of our beauty spot would be to overturn this decision. Surely an appeal will follow?

Disillusioned of Parbold,
Full name supplied

Works lorries will make traffic situation even more dangerous

Were you stuck in the queue of traffic trying to get up Parbold Hill recently?

It was caused by a lorry which had lost traction ascending the steep gradient.

We got a revision course on the art of the hill start as the troubled lorry lurched backwards, the air filled with the scent of burning rubber as tons of HGV struggled for grip!

I was reminded of this when reading an article about Parbold Hill in the Champion and saw the accompanying photograph.

The article described how Lancashire County Council planning committee members, many of whom do not know Parbold Hill, have deferred making a decision on the application to re-open the tip on the top of the hill, until after they have been on a site visit.

The photograph shows the extraordinary position of the proposed new site entrance - near to the brow of the hill where my lorry had lost purchase.

The photograph shows the busy A5209 -

14,000 vehicles every day struggling up and down the 14% gradient.

If the proposals go ahead a lorry will turn into or out of the entrance every six minutes!

All vehicles will be required to arrive from, or exit towards, the motorway.

Understandably the Highways Department objected to this access considering it too dangerous.

They lifted their objection when the developer offered to fund a 40mph speed limit over the hill.

Does this make the traffic less dangerous?

The access will break through the landscaped embankment, cutting through the walkway to the Bottle and removing tons of earth.

Where is the artist's impression of the impact of this proposed access on our beauty spot? It's not on the planning website.

Helen Pickering,
Parbold

Cycle lanes were waste of money as students never used them

In the first wave of Covid-19 back in March, admittedly with government guidance albeit misplaced, West Lancashire Council installed pop-up cycle lanes in Station Road and St Helens Road.

This was to give Edge Hill University students a safe way to cycle from the railway station to the campus.

As a resident in the Ruff Lane area which has secondary access to the university campus, I hardly ever see students on a bike, they are mainly on foot or causing havoc with their car parking ability.

Once failure of the cycle lanes was admitted they were removed without fuss.

Paul McRae,
By email

There are other priorities for the council than paving at the moment

Re: The letter last week's Champion entitled 'Tar Patches Still There' firstly I've visited Ormskirk.

I visited the town recently and did not notice any.

It may have been mainly because I'm concentrating on how close people are to me or getting in and out not scrutinising the state of my surroundings.

We are in the middle of a global pandemic and I don't really feel this is a top list priority right now.

If the council have the paving it's on their to do list so be patient.

I am a community nurse and my main worry is how safe my family, friends and patients are. Please stay safe, wash your hands for at least 20 seconds preferably with soap especially when using public toilets (I am still seeing people not doing this, and have never understood it). Or hand gel when not available.

M Campbell,

Democracy being taken away from planning process

Currently building developments in any local authority area are subject to approval by the local authority with individuals and groups able to express objections to the planning authorities.

Recently in West Lancashire the local authority had to withdraw a local plan following meetings and receiving objections.

This process is generally known as democracy. It is proposed to replace this with central government regulations and dictates.

This process is generally known as central authoritarian control.

The development of democracy has been a long, frequently difficult and for some a painful process.

We should not allow it to be given away because developers and landowners cannot get their projects approved by elected local representatives and want it replaced by heavy handed and, as recently demonstrated, not disinterested central government.

We need to demonstrate to the government it is supposed to govern not rule.

Chris Dixon,
Lathom

Some people are genuinely exempt from wearing masks

I was disappointed to read the letter about face masks in last week's Champion (October 28 edition).

Is this retired health professional not aware of the Equalities Act 2010 and that some people are genuinely exempt from wearing a mask and should not be discriminated against.

People should be following social distancing rules in the shops anyway and wearing a mask is just an added protection for others.

I find it shocking that a former health professional would suggest that those who are exempt should stay at home and quite frankly I expected more compassion from someone who used to work in healthcare.

Perhaps if it bothers this person so much they should be the one that stays at home and arranges home deliveries or asks others to shop for them.

Katie,
Ormskirk

Political leaders of all parties should work together on dealing with Covid-19 crisis

With reference to the present Covid-19 pandemic, I have said right from the start on March 23, in a situation like this, all the leaders of the main political parties should regularly meet and discuss the ongoing situation and agree around the table as to what the country should be advised to do.

This would stop the constant childish bickering and arguing. We would then have harmony that we need and we would all feel as though we are working together to beat this terrible disease.

Couple's 'virtual quiz' raises £10,000 for Rainbow Hub

A COUPLE have raised £10,000 with a special quiz night for the Rainbow Hub children's educational centre in Mawdesley.

Lisa and Paul Maddison, normally hold a spectacular annual ball for the charity, which supports children and young people with physical and neurological disabilities – and is where their daughter, Katie, 14 has attended conductive education for the past 13 years.

And the couple, who live in Formby, were not going to be beaten when it could not go ahead this year due to the pandemic and came up with a fantastic idea for a virtual event.

Their 'Drop the ball' quiz night was sponsored by Luke Martin, MD of TSF Group and involved families taking part through a Zoom event with two marathon question rounds including general knowledge and music.

The winner of the quiz was Dr Peter Williams from Formby and the Best Dressed Team was won by Lindsey, Peter, Charlie and Henry Knowles also from Formby.

They all won hampers of drinks and chocolate.

An auction added to the evening with prizes including football boots signed by Adam Lallana; a monthly floral arrangement for a year from Flowerstyle by Laurie; Prosecco hamper; two professional wine tasting and food evenings for four (when restrictions lift); football and photo signed by Leighton Baines; single malt whisky; Prosecco, white wine and chocolate hamper; together with four prizes donated by HSBC; two tickets for Chester Zoo; family ticket for Farmer Ted's; wine and chocolates hamper and a diamond earrings, pendant and ring set.

Lisa Maddison said: "We want to thank everyone who joined us online and took part and special thanks to Luke Martin of TSF Group and Annette Mullan of HSBC and everyone who donated auction prizes for their support.

"We were disappointed that we could not hold our annual ball but we had a great evening and a fabulous result for Rainbow Hub."

Lyndsay Fahey, interim chief executive at Rainbow Hub, said: "We are over the moon at receiving such a fantastic amount and send a massive thank you to Lisa and Paul for hosting the event;

TFS Group and HSBC for their support and to everyone who took part. It was a really enjoyable evening with plenty of fun and laughter.

"Lisa was so disappointed at not being able to host her annual ball this year but quickly came up with this idea to raise much needed funds.

"With all of our events having to be cancelled we are facing challenging times so this makes such a difference to our ability to continue to provide the services which change the lives of the children and families we support."

Man who tried to sell stolen rare penguins is sent to jail

By Champion reporter

A MAN from Hesketh Bank who tried to sell stolen rare penguins has been jailed.

Bradley Tones, 25, of Moss Lane, admitted stealing two rare and endangered penguins from the South Lakes Safari Zoo in Cumbria and has been jailed for two years and eight months.

He tried to sell the Humboldt penguins for £10,000 but the potential buyer grew suspicious and called police.

Preston Crown Court was told Tones used to work at the zoo but left his job in 2016, later breaking in to steal birds on two occasions.

Tones admitted burglary, theft and three offences under Control of Trade in Endangered Species Regulations.

The judge said his crime was callous and cruel and caused great harm to the animals and the zoo.

He was jailed for a total of 32 months after admitting burglary, theft and the three endangered species offences.

Skem need to improve for big cup tie after lacklustre display

Ashton Athletic 4
Skelmersdale United 0

SKELMERSDALE United lost on Saturday after a lacklustre display against an Ashton Athletic side who were hell bent on putting the Emirates FA Cup first rounder's to the sword, writes Simon Driscoll.

United with three regulars missing and a number of positional changes, never got to grips with the game and the loss of influential defender Daniel Murphy on 25 minutes turned out to be a crucial factor.

As Murphy was still being helped away and the Skem defence having a reshuffle, former United player Josh Nicholson, with something to prove, ran at the defence and coolly slotted home.

Two minutes later, with the defence still re-organising, Nicholson added a second from close range.

United did gather some composure before half time but could not create the telling shot that would get them back in the game.

Richard Brodie was introduced at the break, with manager Paul McNally going for a three up front trying to salvage pride, with Mitchley and Brodie going close, giving the Skem faithful a brief glimmer of hope.

However, all the good work was undone as Chris Bandell was allowed space to run at the defence and casually clipped past Barnes for 3-0; the writing was on the wall for the blues.

Josh Nicholson completed a man of the match performance with his third goal on 80 minutes.

The final whistle couldn't come soon enough for Skem.

For manager Paul McNally, he will be glad that all his players came through unscathed; Daniel Murphy's knock reportedly being only slight and he should be fit to start the game on Friday evening when they travel up to Harrogate Town for their Emirates FA Cup first round encounter, which is being shown live on BT Sports.

Double for Brickell as Linnets put four past Gate

Squires Gate 2
Burscough 4

BURSCOUGH dominated this match from the start and were three goals up by half time.

The first came in the 18th minute when Taylor Brickell intercepted a clearance from the Gate goalkeeper Jordan Gidley and passed the ball into the empty net from outside the box.

Brickell, on loan from Chorley, doubled his tally 10 minutes later with a stunning strike from distance.

The winger picked up the ball on the left hand side and curled a powerful effort into the top corner, giving Gidley no chance.

Burscough's third goal came on 34 minutes as a dangerous corner was flicked into his own net by a Gate defender.

The second half started slowly, with both sides looking to find their feet. Burscough striker Josh Quarless attempted to lob an effort over Gidley on 53 minutes but it was comfortably saved.

The home side managed to get a goal back on 69 minutes through left-back Jake Higham.

On 80 minutes Burscough restored their three goal lead from a Luke Denson penalty after Cameron Gourley was penalised for a challenge.

The home side grabbed a late consolation in added time through Feeney.

†Stamp Duty threshold available on homes up to the value of £500,000, on single home rate only and until 31st March 2021, please speak to our Sales Advisor for further details. Incentives available on selected plots only. *The government backed Help to Buy scheme requires purchasers to fund at least 80% of the purchase price by means of a conventional mortgage, savings and any deposit where required. Eligible applicants will be offered an equity loan of 20% of the market price, interest free for the first five years. At the start of year six a fee of 1.75% is payable on the equity loan, which rises annually by RPI inflation plus 1%. This scheme is subject to changes February 2021. Terms and conditions apply and full details will be provided on request. Only available on selected properties in England. YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON YOUR MORTGAGE. Prices and details correct at time of distribution. Images for illustrative purposes only.

PRAYERS

DEAR SACRED HEART OF JESUS

In the past I have asked for many favours. This time I ask for one special favour. (mention it)

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your own broken heart where your Father sees it. Then, in his merciful eyes, it will become your favour, not mine.

Amen.

Say this prayer for three days, promise publication and your favour will be granted.
Never to be failed.

P.J.G.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother. O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

BARBER ENID

Mum

I'll miss you not just as my Mum but as my special friend. Only you and me will understand the laughs we had over the years.

You knew I was scared of dead people and would always say "Robert, it's not dead people that hurt you but the living ones" that may be true but you are hurting me now you have gone from my life.

I am missing you and will miss you but you have taught me be strong, adapt and carry on.
Rest in Peace
Love Robert

DEATHS

KAY JANET "JEAN" (NEE BAMBER)

17th October 2020

Aged 85 years

Passed away peacefully in her own home, with her Daughter Ann and Son-in-law Peter by her side. Reunited with John Kay, Mam and Dad, John and Mary Bamber and her Late Brother Tucker.

Funeral Service to be held at St Peter's Church Birkdale on Thursday 5th November 2020 at 1pm followed by Burial at Duke Street Cemetery.

Flowers welcome, donations if desired can be sent direct to Southport Lifeboat station Southport. The hardest thing we have ever done Mum was to say goodbye to you.

You have left us precious memories of the times we have spent with you but now your back together with dad just how you used to be. You will always be together now through all eternity.
One in a million loved and always missed Ann and Peter.

PRAYERS

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

FIAT'S won me over with a cute, cleverly thought-out new arrival heading for its showrooms – but it isn't the reimagined 500.

The Italian manufacturer's outposts across the North West are about to start taking orders for the latest, all-electric spin on its big-selling city car, and if you slap down a deposit on one over the next couple of weeks it should be with you by March (and hopefully, lockdown will be over by then, and you'll be able to drive it somewhere too).

The 199-mile range, option of faster charging for the upper echelons of the 500 range, and the choice of three trim levels isn't especially new, but the £19,995 starting price – usefully cheaper than the £26k being talked about back in March for the introductory special edition models – makes it usefully cheaper than Honda's E and the MINI Electric. You'll also like the idea of the newly announced '3+1' model, which has a tiny, rearward-opening door on its passenger side to make cramming children into its back seats a tiny bit easier – but it'd be remiss of me not to mention that Mazda was doing this 15 years ago on the RX-8!

Keen students of the old 500 will know that Fiat's likely, lockdown permitting, to flog every one it can crank out at its Mirafiori factory in Turin. It looks fabulous, has enough usable range for the vast majority of us, and it's kitted out with sufficient gadgetry – including 360-degree parking sensors, semi-autonomous driving tech and a smartphone-ready audio system – to make it worth forking out the extra over, say, a hybrid-equipped Fiesta.

Yet, given a Boris-approved visit to my nearest showroom, I'd almost certainly stroll straight past its cutesy curves and start pestering the salesman about the new Panda instead.

Fiat says it's new but that's not entirely true; unlike the 500, which is an all-electric city car built from the ground up, the latest Panda is a facelift of a five-door hatch that's been around since 2011. It's also equipped not with batteries and fast-charging options, but the choice of two petrol engines, one of which is assisted by a mild-hybrid system, which is a useful shuffle in the right direction, but hardly the giant leap the new 500 makes.

The Panda is never, ever going to be as trendy as its curvier sibling – but I like just about everything else about it. If it's anything like the outgoing model, it'll be a joy to drive, it's got much room inside (and proper rear doors, for that matter) and more luggage space. Crucially, it's nine grand cheaper than the 500 – the range kicks off for the one-litre Mild model, although if we're saving that much money I'd chuck an extra £2k in the Italian piggy bank and go for the much better-looking Sport model.

A great little car and £9k to spend on the post-lockdown holiday of a lifetime, or five minutes of impressing your mates with the new 500? I know which one I'd go for.
